Performance Improvements

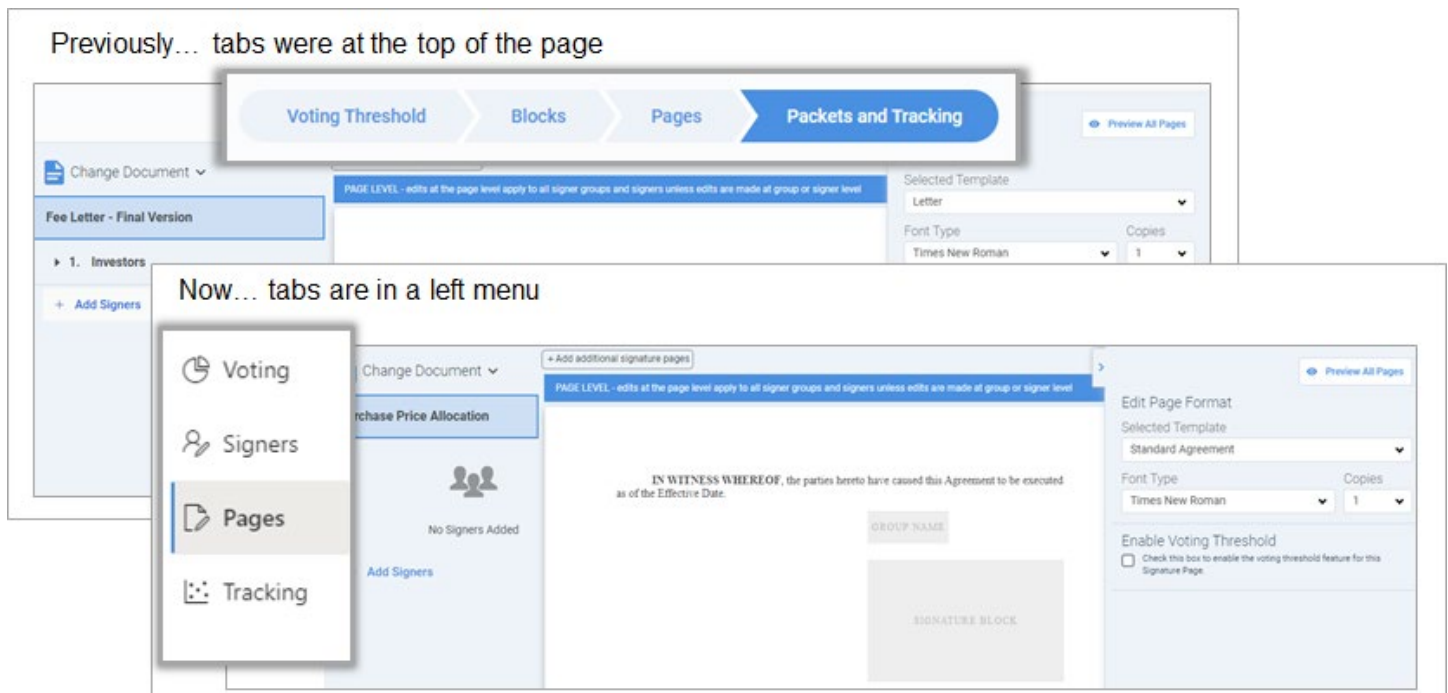

We're working to convert Litera Transact to a single-page application. Single-page applications, as the name implies, are web applications with a single page. After being loaded initially in the browser, single page applications don't reload pages during use. They only load required content, significantly improving a website's speed.

Because of this single page application work, users will see a few visual changes, notably:

- The top-level tabs look slightly different

- The Signature page tabs have moved to a left menu
